Bootleggers Paradise

During prohibition this Town of Wilmington was known as such by people miles north, south, east and west of here.

A re-occurrence of this situation will result next year if you vote "NO" on November 5th on the liquor question.

VOTE YES
WHY?

1st. People employed in this business would be deprived of a livelihood, therefore, being forced to apply for welfare.

2nd. The license fee of about $5000. would be lost to the Town therefore increasing the tax rate to such an extent so as to discourage anyone who is thinking of establishing a residence here.

3rd. The assessed valuation on properties owned by us is equivalent to about $80,000. If deprived of a chance to stay in business it means we cannot pay our taxes.

4th. The spending power of the owners and help of these concerns means a spending power of about $74,000 per year to all business in Wilmington

5th. Police expenses will increase because of illegal sales and prosecution if the town goes dry.

Deprive the town of these incomes and put on these added expenses and you will cause our taxpayers to reach in their pockets because of added taxes.

Most all of us who conduct this business do so properly and cooperate with the town and its authorities.

Vote yes on Liquor Questions 1, 2 and 3. Questions in 5th Column.

Thank you for your consideration.

Wilmington, Mass.

Mr. Frank O'Hara, Editor,
Wilmington Mirror.

In your last issue of the Mirror, we note an article written by a liquor dealer in Town and he charges that some liquor places are not an asset to the business, THERE is an indictment, from a dealer himself. What more evidence do the people need. It bears out, all past statements of the License Control Associates. We will assume, that he is refeying to ten Taverns in Town, as being obnoxious to him, but at the close of his remarks he asks the people to vote for question 1, on the ballot, that embraces hart liquor Taverns. Voters, don't be foiled by sucho trickery. Vote "NO" on all three liquor questions.

The gentleman who enjoys the Florida sunshine all Winter, tells the people, that a number of persons, whose only means of livelyhood, depends on these places of business. That certainly is a gross insult to the officials of our Town and if it is so, then let us call in some missionary workers immediately. This condition is a menace to all good citizens and the only remedy is, to undermine it all, by voting "NO" on questions 1, 2 and 3 on November 5th.

The liquor menace is the greatest danger to Wilmington and it constitutes a big problem for our local officials, who are often approached by applicants with pressure political groups, demanding consideration over the peoples objections. We have the list of future applicants, 25 percent living out of Town, just waiting for you to open wide, our portals to them on November 5th. Every two years the State Law requires the liquor

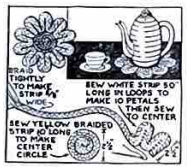
Daisy Hot Dish Mat An Appropriate Gift

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

IT WAS the flower handle of the tea-pot lid that suggested this daisy mat. I had been thinking of making a hot dish out of firmly braided strips of cotton cloth. I wanted it to be thick and sewn firmly like a rag rug, so that it would stand frequent scrubbings. The design had to be novel and gay so that it would be appropriate for a Christmas gift or would attract attention if used to sell at a church bazaar. All the directions you need to make one are right here in the sketch.



BRAID TIGHTLY TO MAKE STRIP ¾" WIDE
SEW WHITE STRIP SO LONG IN LOOPS TO MAKE 10 PETALS
THEN SEW TO CENTER
SEW YELLOW BRAIDED STRIP SO LONG TO MAKE CENTER CIRCLE

Cotton flannel or heavy cotton knitted material are good to use for the braided strips. Cut the strips two inches wide if the goods is heavy or wider if light weight. Braid tightly and then use No. 8 white cotton thread to sew, as shown. A set of these mats are pretty on the table; and mats for oval dishes may be made by sewing two daisies together.

NOTE: There are directions for a hot dish mat c, side of cable cord in SEWING Book 4. Books 2 and 3 also contain directions for many gifts and novelties. These booklets are a service to our readers and each contains 32 pages of illustrated directions for things to make for the home. New Wool Fabric Dress Has Hand-Knitted Section

Knitted sleeves in a wool fabric dress is big news. Attractive jersey dresses in the very new neutral colors take on sleeves and knitted sections. Details such as large pockets, bells and cuff-and-collar sets are done in yarn accurately colormatched.

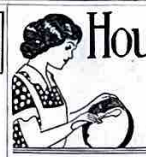
Tunic Dress Returns

The tunic dress is "in" again. Sometimes it has a low placed flounce, either pleated or gathered. Slim skirts tiered all the way to the knee and beyond are very new.

Cooking Scrambled Eggs

Scrambled eggs are easier to keep moist and tender if cooked in the top part of a double boiler than if cooked in a pan over direct heat.

Household News By Eleanor Howe



As I sit here thinking about church suppers, my mind wanders back several years to the suppers I attended in my old home town. There was always a feeling of congeniality, of hospitality and fellowship. The annual church supper was something that couldn't be missed.

Can you pass a table containing a tempting assortment of foods without wanting at least a taste of everything? Can you decide whether or not you want the coconut cream pie which is heaped with fluffy whipped cream, or the rich-looking chocolate cake with the thick fudge icing, when you know that you are entitled to only one dessert? Of course not! Instead of having such a wide selection of food for a covered dish supper, why not plan a well-balanced menu so that everyone gets exactly the same?

Hot Water Cheese Pastry.
(Makes 30 tarts)

1¼ cups shortening
⅜ cup boiling water
4 cups general purpose flour
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 cups American cheese (grated)

Place shortening in warm bowl, pour boiling water over it and cream thoroughly with a fork. Place flour, salt, and baking powder in flour sieve and gradually into the creamed mixture. Add cheese. Mix thoroughly. Make up into dough ball, then chill in refrigerator. When ready to bake remove from refrigerator, divide dough and roll out. Cut into rounds and bake.

Tuna Cracker Pie.
(Serves 4 to 5)

1 tablespoon onion (chopped)
2 tablespoons green pepper (chopped)
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 can condensed chicken soup

1 can (7-ounce) tuna fish
Crackers for bottom and top of pie

Cook the onion and green pepper in butter until soft, but not brown. Then add flour and mix well. Add the chicken soup and cook until thickened. Stir in the milk. Add this to the cream of mushroom soup. Put the tuna fish in a strainer and pour a cup of hot water over it to take off the excess oil. Then add flaked tuna fish; heat to blend flavors. Cover the bottom of small casserole with crackers (round) and put tuna mixture into the casserole.

For top: 12 crackers
½ cup hot milk

Soak the crackers in the milk until soft. Then arrange crackers on top of pie and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for 20 to 25 minutes.

1½ teaspoons soda
¾ cup sour milk
⅝ cup cocoa
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually, blending well after each addition. Add slightly beaten eggs and mix well. Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, and soda. Add to the creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Blend cocoa and boiling water. Add to the cake batter with the vanilla, and mix just until the batter is smooth. Pour into 3 8-inch square pans, which have been greased and lined with wax paper. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 30 minutes.

Tin Hats for 'Hot Seats'

The steel helmet has been put to many unorthodox uses, but surely the most curious use was made of it by airmen in the 1914-18 war.

Attacking planes then, as now, drove in from before and rearwards, and always the pilot was the main part of the target. It must have been a bright wag who figured it out first, but the idea spread like wildfire among pilots, when steel helmets were used to sit on. Results were grand. Not one casualty was reported through the "Hot Seat" type of wound (especially with tracer bullets), and airmen vowed the inventor of this stunt deserved a statue to his memory. Oh, yes, cushions were put on top of the helmets, too!

High School Notes

Loring R. Kaw of Lowell, deputy sheriff of Middlesex County House of Correction, East Cambridge, was the guest speaker at the regular High school assembly during Monday morning.

The speaker gave the student body a most interesting and dramatic portrayal of many cases at the House of Correction wherein young and older men lose their liberty and some of their citizenship rights through a disregard of the law.

Mr. Kaw reminded the students that bad companions are often the cause of starting a boy or girl on the downward path and that the power of the emotions often overrides the power of reason and judgement.

The speaker concluded with a strong plea for good citizenship and a strict observance of law and of individual rights.

I regret to advise that at the present time there are no funds available under the control of this administration which would permit the erection of a Federal-owned building for the postal service at Wilmington. Once, I Could Vote, Too!

Once, like you, I was a free man! A Frenchman!

Politicians made speeches to me, too!

They spoke about our impregnable democracy.

They told me what they were doing to protect my standard of living and my working conditions.

They promised my family safety through preparedness.

But they weren't honest with me! They let me down!

I found that out when I had to give up my job to go to war—at the same time that I found out you couldn't stop tanks with bodies, that you couldn't halt bombs and you couldn't buy peace with promises.

Now they are holding trials to find out whose fault it was. But I know—

It was MY fault!

I voted for the easy way.

I voted for the beguiling voice.

I voted for the politician, not the man.

I was one of a nation of free men who did not prize freedom. Today I am not free.

I repeat, it was my fault. But it was I who paid the penalty. I, with my womenfolk and my children! I, who thought I was prepared for war.

WAR IF ROOSEVELT IS PUBLIC'S ...

By Edward J. Wall
Director, American Opinion Forecasts, Inc.
Copyright 1940

Is war more likely for the United States if Roosevelt is re-elected or if Willkie is elected President?

The opinion of the American people in all of the 48 states was sought on this question by American Opinion Forecasts, Inc., by asking a cross section of people in all sections for their views. The answer of public opinion was that the next President most likely to involve this country in war was:

Roosevelt	56.5%
Willkie	43.5%

Such was the division of opinion among men and women, after leaving out almost one-third of the people interviewed because they said they had no positive opinion on the subject.

Both candidates have expressed their determination to keep out of war, and have indicated a determination to give help to England in all ways "short of war."

This division of opinion, indicating a feeling that peace is more likely to be preserved under Willkie as President, was fairly uniform throughout the country except in three areas which have indicated the widest admiration for President Roosevelt and greatest support for his third term aspirations. Those sections are the solid south, where opinion ... other way, the group states, where the belief tha... was more likely under Roosevelt. Relief tions opinion plainly ... as far more likely ... hostilities. Here is ... opinion by geographic ...

Area	Roosevelt	Willkie
New England	67.5%
Middle Atlantic States	55.6%	44.5%
Border States	55.6%	44.4%
Lake States	60.4%	39.6%
Mountain States	31.9%	68.2%
Pacific States	62.8%	37.2%
Farm Belt	58.2%	41.8%
Solid South	28.8%	43.5%

Whether the voters in these various sections will ballot on election day for the President they think least likely to take us into war, or will be guided by other issues, remains to be determined. Certainly the vote in the South and the opinion on this issue in the South seem likely to coincide. Perhaps some people choose their favorite candidate first, and then just hope he will keep us out of war, while others may reason from their judgment of the war feeling shown by the candidates, and then decide for whom they will vote. At any rate, as shown by public opinion tests, Willkie is most widely believed to be a probable "President of Peace."

Future of U. S. May Rest on Rural Votes

Will there be a Third Term of New Dealism for this country of ours after November 5?

Or will there be a New Birth of American Freedom, Free Enterprise and Opportunity?

The answer may well rest with the rural voters of America, particularly the farm men and women. The balance of power in the national election is considered by experts to rest on the farms.

The rural voters may well hold the destiny of America in their hands on November 5. The question is: Will they vote a their full strength? Or will enough of them, from carelessness or forgetfulness, stay home so that cities wash out the rural vote for Wende'l Willkie? That is the critical question.

YOU . . . men and women of the farmlands of America . . . can answer the question. There never was a more important election in the history of America. Never were more vital issues at stake. Never was there a clearer duty upon the part of the American citizen to exercise his privilege to vote.

The records of every election for many years past show a great fluctuation in the size of the rural vote. When the farmer, unbossed vote stays at home, the city, boss-patrolled vote comes out in full strength.

This is an election in which there should be no stay-at-homes. Too much is at stake for America and for every man and woman and child in America.

A grave and solemn responsibility rests on the rural voters . . . the people who vote on principles, on beliefs, on convictions, without being paid to vote and without being told how they MUST vote.

The boss-controlled vote will come out in force; make no mistake about that! The paid vote will come out in force; make no mistake about that!

How about YOUR vote? Will you march to the polls on election day to exercise your precious American right to express your free choice in a free election? Or will you be too busy to have a vote in the future of America?

Vote . . . by all means, Vote! If every voting man and woman in America goes to polls on election day, Wendell Willkie will win. And at any rate, whatever the outcome of the election, the unbossed people will have had their voice in the decision which America makes in its hour of peril.

Dear Sirs:

The members of the Women's Society of Christian Service, of the Methodist Church, heartily indorse the good work of the License Control Associates and pledge a 100 percent support in bringing a "NO" license victory to Wilmington on November 5th

Very truly yours,

License Control Associates,
Wilmington, Mass.
Dear Sirs

Just a few lines to say, that I heartily endorse and greatly appreciate the good work you are doing to help have this Town go dry on next Tuesday.

It is my prayer that every Law Abiding Citizen of Wilmington will use their God Given priviledge next Tuesday to vote "NO" on all three questions relative to the liquor question.

If the thoughtful intelligent upright citizens do not vote, they throw the reins of Government into the hands of their opposites, who questions what ballot Jesus would hold in a "No License Campaign".

It should be the aim of every Christian Citizen to make the Spirit of Jesus Christ dominate both the citizens and their rulers.

Sincerely yours,
Reverend R. G. Seabover,
Pastor of Methodist Church

The Pleasant Way to Correct Constipation

Why let yourself in for all the discomfort of constipation—and then have to take an emergency medicine—if you can avoid both by getting at the cause of the trouble?

If your difficulty, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, the "better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy toasted cereal—a natural food, not a medicine—has just the "bulk" you need. If you eat it every day, it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular, month after month, by the pleasantest means you ever knew!

All-Bran often drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Read This Important Message!

Do you dread those "trying years" (35 to 50)? Are you getting moody, cranky and NERVOUS? Do you fear hot flashes, weakening dizzy spells? Are you jealous of attractive other women girls? THEN LISTEN—

These symptoms often result from female functional disorders. So start today and take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For over 60 years Pinkham's Compound has helped hundreds of thousands of grateful women to go "smiling thru" difficult days. TEACHING A CHILD VALUE OF PENNIES

A child of a wise mother will be taught from early childhood to become a regular reader of the advertisements, in that way better perhaps than in any other can the child be taught the great value of pennies and the permanent benefit which comes from making every penny count.

Heavyweight Hopes

ARTURO GODOY, the South American glamour boy, is gunning for a third bout with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

Just why Godoy should be rematched with the champ is a matter which cannot be explained to anyone's satisfaction. The demand for this bout is just about as great as the demand that Hitler and Mussolini visit New York's east side.

Fortunately, at this writing, the bout is still in the conversational stage. And the conversation is practically all Godoy's. Uncle Mike Jacobs will think a long time before he promotes a bout with as little in its favor as this setup.

Sadly enough, Godoy epitomizes the field of defeated fighters now monopolizing heavyweight circles. That field includes Max Baer, Lou Nova, Lee Savold, Pat Comiskey and Bob Pastor. Tony Galento evidently has decided—and very wisely—that enough is enough.

The Roll Call

It is quite evident that the contenders do not fit into the championship class. Max Baer, when the right occasion arises, is one of the most dangerous of present-day fighters. But that right occasion will never come for him in the same ring with Joe Louis. Nova took a terrible lacing at the hands of Galento. It won't be easy for him to climb back even as far as his former rating. Dopesters wouldn't give Savold much of a chance on the basis of his past victories. Pat Comiskey's stock didn't climb when Baer whipped him in their recent encounter. Comiskey, nevertheless is young enough to snap back after sufficient seasoning in the big time. Pastor, sole remaining white hope in the list of aspirants, lacks the punch to reach the top. And his drawing power seems limited to his relatives and a few close friends.

The solution? There just doesn't seem to be any. Time will have to take its toll and some day a now unheard of youngster will arise and overpower Ol' Pappy Louis.

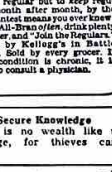
Financial Success

DESPITE the American league's failure to produce the world's championship baseball team for 1940, the junior circuit has ample cause for rejoicing.

The official books disclose that an all-time American league attendance record was set in the season just closed.

Will Harridge, president of the league, reported recently that the home attendance of the eight clubs was 5,433,791. This shattered by 178,353 the 1930 year-old record, 5,255,439. The 1940 total exceeded last year's figures by an amazing 1,163,189.

The season got off to a poor start due to unfavorable weather conditions. However, the lost ground was more than recovered when the Yankees failed to assume an early and definite control of the pennant situation. The open race that resulted for the championship attracted fans who weren't interested in last year's one-team marathon.



Will Harridge

Night Game Leader

The Chicago White Sox paid attendance was 660,156—which fact caused a wide smile to crease the face of Manager Jimmy Dykes and brought untold happiness to the members of the Comiskey family, whose finances are involved to a very large extent. In round numbers the 1939 attendance was 597,000.

The seven night games played by the White Sox attracted 214,760 paying patrons, or almost a third as much as the 70 daylight contests. The average for the night contests was 30,680, highest in the league. Cleveland averaged 30,150 for its after dark games.

The league's 35 night games attracted a total of 634,228 customers, for an average of 18,121. The St. Louis Browns, who played 14 of their games under the lights, averaged 8,364.

WHAT OL' MISTAH BUZZARD SAW

by Thornton W. Burgess

OL' MISTAH BUZZARD, looking down from high up in the blue, blue sky, was anxious. Yes, sir, Ol' Mistah Buzzard was very anxious. He wanted to do something, but he didn't know what to do, and so he just did nothing but float round and round up in the blue, blue sky, watching for something to happen.

"It's jes' bound to be something terrible," muttered Ol' Mistah Buzzard to himself. "It's jes' bound to be, and mah ol' haid am too thick fo' to think of anything to do to stop it."

You see, it was this way. Looking down that way from high up in the blue, blue sky, Ol' Mistah Buzzard had seen old Granny Fox lead Bowser the Hound straight over to the home of Old Man Coyote in the far corner of the Green Meadows, and he had seen Farmer Brown's Boy hurry over there, with his rifle in his hand. Then he had seen him leave Bowser on guard and hurry home, only to return with his hands full of cruel steel traps. He had watched him take the greatest pains in setting those traps, one in each of Old Man Coyote's three doorways, and others in his private little paths. He had seen him cover them up so that not a trace of them was to be seen, and then start off home, sure that Old Man Coyote would be caught as soon as he tried to come out.

Ol' Mistah Buzzard was sure of it too, and it was this that troubled him so. If Old Man Coyote had been anywhere above ground he could have found him and given him warning. But he wasn't above ground. He was down in his house under ground. Mistah Buzzard knew, because he saw him go there just before old Granny Fox led Bowser there. And now there was no way of getting word to him. Mister Buzzard didn't dare drop down on the ground so as to stick his head in at one of the doorways and warn him because he was afraid of those traps himself. So there seemed to be nothing he could do but wait and watch.

Now, it wasn't because he had any special liking for Old Man Coyote that Ol' Mistah Buzzard was so anxious and feeling so bad. It was because traps are such dreadful things no matter who is caught in them.

"Ah wouldn't want mah worst enemy to be caught in one of those contraptions! No, sah, Ah cert'nly would not," said he, shaking his head as he flew round and round. He was so worried that he quite forgot to eat. Late in the afternoon, just before jolly round red Mr. Sun started down behind the Purple Hills for the night, Ol' Mistah Buzzard's sharp eyes saw a movement in one of Old Mr. Coyote's doorways. "He's coming out now, and he'll be caught, sho' enough," thought he, and for a second he closed his eyes so as not to see. But somehow he just had to look, and when he did, what do you think he saw? He couldn't believe his own eyes. If he could have done such a thing way up there in the air he would have rubbed his eyes to make sure that he was awake and not dreaming.

What was it he saw? Well, sir, it was nothing less than Old Man Coyote his very own self just starting out across the Green Meadows and grinning as only that sly old rascal can grin. Ol' Mistah Buzzard had had his long worry for nothing. Old Man Coyote hadn't been caught and by the look of him he didn't mean to be caught in any traps that Farmer Brown's Boy could set.

So there seemed to be nothing he could do but wait and watch.

Spotted Furs Have Become the Vogue

If you keep seeing "spots before your eyes" don't be alarmed. It is simply fashion making a demonstration of what's what in fur coats and fur trimmings

The tremendous vogue for leopard and ocelot and other of the spotted type pelts is developing almost to an epidemic of spots. When in doubt as to the fur to enhance your new cloth coat, use the spotted kind and you will be fashion correct.

The way spotted furs will crowd the grandstand this year is something to marvel at. There will be entire coats of leopard or ocelot. There will be muff and neckpiece sets with matching hats of the spotted fur. There will be more than that, for huge pockets of spotted fur are adorning cloth coats.

There's no end in sight of the procession of novelty accessory items that will enliven the fall and winter style picture. You will be seeing spotted fur gloves with belts made of the same material. Hand bags to match are available, and lapel gadgets of "spots." Of course the program includes smart headgear of spotted fur to "make good" a complete ensemble.

Flowers 'Say It'

An ardent beau will be doubly sure of cheers from his sweetheart if he sends her twin corsages of chrysanthemums to wear on her trip to the big game—one to pin at the throat of her fur coat and another attached gaily to her megaphone. Chrysanthemums in yellow, white and maroon give a dramatic touch of college spirit when worn with this smart new swagger coat of rivet cat. The ribbons, of course, repeat her beau's own college colors.

Dear Mr. Scelzo:.

I read your article in the Mirror c' last week. You hit the nail on the head when you stated that, these so called dries were wetter than Niagra Falls. Another point I liked was, that you came out like a man and signed your article. I do not know you personally, but have heard you mentioned several times, and never at any time have I heard anything but what you would be proud of.

To me the name "License Control Association", means nothing, as the persons behind the move are unknown and for me and any other person to follow a blind leader does not make sense. It appears that they are ashamed of their identity. That is why I think that your articles and perhaps Circulars will carry much more weight than your opposition is carrying.

I am not going to sign this letter as I hob-nob with a few dries but I hope that they will realize the man fashioned way that you are appealing to the public, a man that was given the right to go ahead and invest a large amount of money by the voters, and now making a direct appeal to be given the chance to continue in business.

Yours with success,
A Booster

Michael Scelzo.
